Final Price List for the National Agriculture Fair 2026

Submitted by: Matune J.C Dolo
Director of Marketing Division

Date: November 11, 2026

Fair Price for the National Agriculture Fair 2026

Based on this survey, the Marketing Division has set a Fair Price for each commodity. This is the price farmers and vendors will use when selling at the National Agriculture Fair 2026. It is shown in the new green column of each table in the annexes.

At the Fair, farmers sell directly to buyers, so most of the cost of transport, middlemen and market fees falls away. The Fair Price shares that saving equally between farmers and buyers: it is set halfway between the farm-gate/rural-market price and the urban market price. Farmers earn more than they would at the farm gate, and buyers pay less than they would in town.

Each Fair Price is rounded so it is easy to pay in cash: to the nearest LRD 5 below LRD 100, the nearest LRD 25 from LRD 100 to LRD 999, the nearest LRD 50 from LRD 1,000 to LRD 9,999, and the nearest LRD 500 from LRD 10,000 upward. Across the 119 priced entries, the Fair Price gives farmers on average 31% more than the farm-gate price and saves buyers 17% compared with urban market prices.

The Fair Price is shown as "To be set" and will be agreed with commodity leaders before the Fair. Entries marked for verification should be confirmed by secretariat before the price list is displayed to the public.

Note:

PRODUCE LIMIT

The total produces a farmer should bring at the National Agriculture Fair should not exceed US$300.

LIVESTOCK LIMIT

The total livestock a farmer should bring at the National Agriculture Fair should not be valued above US$400.
